BLOOMFIELD MY PRIDE

Bloomfield my Pride, my Alma Mater dear!
I greet thy Hall that wisdom holds,
Thy Campus fair that body moulds.
Great is thy name. Bloomfield my pride!

Bloomfield rejoice! A glorious past is thine.
A band of men and women brave
Have toiled a hapless world to save.
Great were their deeds. Bloomfield rejoice!

Bloomfield march on! Thy goal lies yet afar.
Strive nobly, more success attain;
Be valiant e'en through tears and pain.
Unto the end Bloomfield march on!

Written in 1954 by Ernst Derendinger (Class of 1908)

Cinquin Poetry

Solitude
Serene, silent
Secluding myself.
Saddened by my isolation
Lonesomeness.

One faraway star...

Like a frozen dewdrop.
Like a keyhole.
Like the glimmer in a panther's eye.
Like the period in a silent sentence.
Like a white chrysanthemum
on God's lapel.
Like a child's rendering of the universe.

One faraway star...

A winter's dream of a summer's night.
